

Are you concerned about:

- increased workload – too few nurses, increased numbers and acuity of clients
- not being replaced when absent from work
- lack of clinical support and education

Home & Community Care Nurses

It's our professional responsibility and right to report any potential or real problems or concerns to our employer

The best way to do this is to fill out a PRF (Professional Responsibility Form)

Using PRFs allows us to practice according to our professional standards and to fulfill our responsibility to advocate on behalf of our clients.

Most importantly, PRFs work as a local problem-solving tool for nurses – that employers are obligated to by agreement – to respond to.

Your BCNU stewards are there to support you through the PRF process and help you fill out the PRF form.

cope 15

Start using PRFs to advocate for quality care in your workplace for yourself and your clients