

Lived experience of frontline nurses
during the COVID-19 pandemic

AS TOLD BY NURSES THROUGH PHOTOS

Participants Needed for a Qualitative Research Project

As a participant in this study, you will be asked to tell your story through photography and a short reflection. Each week for six weeks we will send you a short video recording with instructions and will ask you to submit a photo and a short summary that describes how it represents your experiences. We would like to learn from your lived experience during the pandemic to influence health education, health systems, and policies.

You will receive a $50 honorarium for participation

Nurses anywhere on the globe, (working full- or part-time) who self-identify as practicing in an acute setting with adult COVID-19 positive (or suspected positive) patients are invited to participate in this study.

For more information or to participate, contact:
nursesphotos@gmail.com

Aggie Black RN, MPH
Director, Health Services &
Clinical Research and Knowledge Translation
PHC

Ruhina Rana RN, MN
Health Science Research
Coordinator Faculty,
Department of Nursing
Douglas College

Nicole Moen RN, MSc
Faculty, Department of Nursing
Douglas College

This study has been approved by the Douglas College Research
Ethics Board (Approval ID JN20.12A)
and the Providence Health Care Research
Ethics Board (H20-02370)

